FLAMES SWEEP EAST LIVERPOOL GRADE BUILDING

Four Teachers Lead Their Structure

ESTIMATE DAMAGE MAY REACH $25,000

Blaze Originates In Roof,
Where Tinsmiths Were Making Repairs

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 28.—The four-room Third Street school, where two teachers led 120 pupils, some of them over 11 years old, to safety today as fire swept through the two-story brick building.

The flames threatened to spread to nearby dwellings as all available city fire fighting apparatus responded to the alarm. School authorities estimated damage to the 45-year-old structure and equipment would total $25,000.

March Calmly To Safety

Mrs. Andrews explained that all the children, members of grades one, two, three and four, formed single lines as taught in fire drills and marched calmly from the structure.

Pupils on the second floor also marched safely down the fire escape.

The other teachers were the Misses Helen Hannahs, Ann Johnston and Ann Thompson. Miss Andrews, one of the city's older teachers, has been in the school system over a score of years.

Firemen brought the blaze under control before it spread to other buildings. Three lines of hose were used after three trucks were dispatched to the scene.

The learned later that a blow-bow, in use by two tinsmiths on the roof, caused the fire. Originating on the roof, the blaze burned its way downward through the heart of the school.

Tinsmiths Escape

Neither of the tinsmiths, William Fry and David Copestick, was injured. They made their way from the roof after their efforts to stifle the flames there were unsuccessful.

The blaze started when the tinsmiths went to the far side of the roof to make further repairs. The smoke of the roof where the fire broke out was then hidden from view.

Classes were suspended temporarily since Supt. of Schools H. G. Means was out of town today.

Camera Club Plans Election Thursday

Election of officers and an instructive talk will feature the semi-annual meeting of the Quaker Camera club Thursday night at the Memorial building. It was announced today by Carl Juergens, president.

James of Damascus, will speak on "Composition and Filters." Juergens requested members to bring along latest photographs to the meeting for exhibition purposes.

Cantonian Guest Conductor

Ray Bartholomew, director of the Salem Community band, will share his baton with Emil Rinkendorf of Canton, bandmaster for former President William McKinley, when the band gives its second annual concert next Tuesday night in the High school auditorium.

The concert is one of a series of features being arranged for Salem's yearly observance of National Music Week.

Prof. Rinkendorf will conduct three numbers: "Pizzicato Polka," "Across the Rockies," a descriptive march; and "Our Chief's Call," dedicated to William McKinley, then president of the United States.

The Cantonian is former director of the Canton Grand Army band; the Canton Philharmonic Symphony orchestra; Canton Choral society; Illinois State band; Fifth Regiment band; Quincy (Ill.) Symphony orchestra; Chaddock

PILLER FUNERAL RITES ARRANGED

City Police, State Highway Patrolmen to Serve As Pallbearers

The funeral service for Patrolman Edward Piller, fatally injured in a motorcycle accident on the Benton road Saturday afternoon, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Masonic temple on East State st., in charge of Rev. R. D. Walter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the Knights Templar.

Burial will be in Hope cemetery.

Piller was a member of the commandery and other Masonic bodies.

Members of the Junior School-boy patrol, of which Piller was one of the organizers, will attend the service in a body, as will members of the Salem state highway patrol station, and others from the Massillon barracks, district B headquarters.

The police department, assisted by police from nearby cities, will conduct a Fraternal Order of Police service at 7:30 tonight at the Piller home, 677 West State st.

Friends called at the home last night and may do so again this evening.

Pallbearers for the service Wednesday will be Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer and Patrolman Nerr Gaunt and the four local state highway patrolmen, F. S. Van Allen, A. E. Hall, Jr., Carrol Ruben and Homer O. Hall, Jr.

Members of the Junior police will act as honorary pallbearers. Additional state highway patrolmen will form an escort.

Mayor Geo. Harroff Returns To Desk

Mayor George Harroff returned to his desk at the city hall for a short time this afternoon, the first he has been able to do since he was thrown from a motorcycle Saturday afternoon on the Benton rd., while riding with Patrolman Edward D. Piller.

Mayor Harroff is recovering rapidly from cuts and bruises but is still suffering from the effects of the nervous shock. He did not fully regain consciousness, after the accident, until arrival at the Central clinic.

Akron Man Awaits Kidnap Sentence

ALLENTON, Pa., April 28.—District Attorney John L. Cutshall said Richard D. Taylor, 43-year-old Akron, O., washing machine salesman, would be sentenced in a few days for the kidnaping of Henry Tommy Koch, 10, son of a wealthy department store executive.

Taylor pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of abducting the child with the hope of obtaining $50,000 ransom. The boy broke his bonds of adhesive tape and escaped.

Cistern Fatality

XENIA, April 28.—Coroner H. C. Schick returned a verdict of accidental death in the drowning yesterday of David Miller, 9, who fell into an open cistern at his home near Zimmerman. The child had been blind and deaf since birth.

LEWIS ASSAILS F.D.R. WASTE OF PUBLIC MONEY

Hits Extravagance and Corruption, In Address
At Wellsville

OUST BRAIN TRUST, HE TELLS HEARERS

Only Third of Relief funds Goes To Needy, He Declares

WELLSVILLE, April 27.—Wild expenditure and ruthless exploitation of federal funds, together with extravagance and corruption in the administration of relief, came under the fire of Earl R. Lewis of St. Clairsville here tonight as he continued his Columbiana county campaign for the Republican nomination for congress from the 18th district.

The former state senator returned a biting indictment against the New Deal for the tremendous financial burden it has placed upon future generations and then went on to substantiate his charge of misappropriation by declaring that "only a third of the government expenditure of $1,000 a second, designed for relief, actually went to persons who needed it and that the balance was squandered in brain trust social experiments."

100 Attend Meeting

Mr. Lewis addressed more than 100 members, friends and guests of the Young Republican club, and was introduced, along with Rev. Edgar Cochran, one of his opponents with whom he shared the major portion of the program, by Raymond Knepper, president of the club.

Among the visitors was C. B. McClintock of Canton, former 16th district congressman, who is candidate for attorney general.

McClintock spoke briefly, outlining what he regarded one of the most important issues of the day—rigid law enforcement.

Like Lewis, Rev. Cochran leveled a bitter attack on the administration of relief and narrowed his point specifically to the issue of the restoration of local government.

"The president, functioning through tens of thousands of offices he created, has used a large percentage of the mammoth $4,800,000 work relief appropriation for political purposes," he charged.

"He has used money of yours and mine to influence those on relief rolls to register as Democrats and perpetuate their own peasantry and has placed in the hands of selfish politicians a club that has been wielded over a helpless people."

Total Debt Staggering

"Few people," asserted Lewis, "really appreciate the staggering proportions which federal expenditures have assumed in the last three years.

"In the first 122 years of our life as a nation, under the Constitution, that is, from the beginning of the first term of President Washington to the beginning of the first term of Woodrow Wilson, the total federal expenditures amounted to the sum of $22,400,000,000. Those expenditures included the cost of four major wars fought in that period, namely, the War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war and the Spanish-American war.

"In the first three years of Franklin Roosevelt's administration the government has spent practically the same amount. In other words this administration has spent in three years practically as much as it cost to run the government for 122 years. These expenditures amount to the staggering total of $22,371,000,000.

"Nor can it be claimed that this enormous total of expenditures was spent for relief to the unemployed.

"The truth of the matter is that only a little over one-third of that total has been spent for relief and almost two-thirds of it has been spent for the ordinary functions of government and the so-called New Deal social experiments; and when we raise our voices in condemnation of this orgy of governmental extravagance we cannot be charged with hard-hearted opposition to relief of the needy, because only one-third, approximately, of these staggering totals have gone to that use. It is the two-thirds of which we complain.

G. O. P. For Relief

"Republicans everywhere have been and are now for relief of the needy. Relief measures have been passed in congress and in the various state legislatures with the aid of Republican votes, and I will recall that it was a Republican-controlled legislature in Ohio that made the first appropriation for the relief of the needy, early in this depression. No it is not the expenditures for relief of human need that we condemn, it is the unlimited expenditure for so-called economic planning and experimentation, and

Will Direct Maennerchor

Jacob Faust, director of the Salem Maennerchor, will direct the twenty-fifth anniversary concert of the Maennerchor on May 10, in the high school auditorium.

The Maennerchor will be assisted in the concert by 10 societies from Canton, Alliance, Youngstown, and Farrell, a 13-piece concert orchestra, and a number of local soloists.

Mr. Faust became director of the Maennerchor in 1928. He came to America from Cologne, Germany, in 1927. There it was that he received his musical training. He was noted there for his own solo work, for although a baritone he sings well either tenor or bass parts. For a time he was assistant director of the Muehlhaus Maennerchor of Cologne, one of Europe's outstanding singing organizations.

Besides the Maennerchor and Damenchor in Salem, Mr. Faust also finds time to direct four choruses in Canton, including the famous Swiss choruses in Canton, and one in Alliance. He is also a soloist in one of the large churches in Canton. Much of his time is taken up with giving vocal instruction to numerous individual singers.

Jacob Faust

Mr. Faust is the sixth man to direct the Salem Maennerchor since its founding in 1911, and under him it has made its greatest progress.

Borah Changes His Ohio Speaking Trip

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Sen. William E. Borah (R-Idaho) announced last-minute changes in his Ohio speaking schedule and prepared today for a whirlwind finish to his campaign for presidential delegates from the Buckeye state. He cancelled a Springfield address scheduled Thursday and will address only a central Ohio rally in Columbus on that day.

After a trip to Washington, Borah will return to Ohio May 4, address the Ada Young Republican club May 6, and conclude the campaign in Cleveland, May 9.

Indiana Police Search for Thugs Who Robbed
Lima Store

INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—Four men, suspected of a jewelry store robbery at Lima and also thought to be the men that escaped from a Carlville, Ill., jail last week, were sought by Indiana officers today after they killed Police Sergeant Richard Rivers of Indianapolis in a gun battle here last night.

Rivers was shot down as he and two patrolmen started into a doctor's home to question the men, who had gone there seeking medical aid for a wounded companion.

Fire Through Door

The gunmen opened fire through a screen door, raced to their automobile and backed for more than a block while keeping up a steady exchange of shots with the policemen. They whipped their automobile into a side street and then fled south.

State police blockades were raised on all highways leading from Indianapolis but the bandits escaped.

Indianapolis police were notified early in the evening by Dr. E. E. Rose that some men had been to his office and been shot by the husband of a woman to whom he had been attentive.

They left but returned about 9 o'clock. While three of them tried to persuade the doctor to come out to the car, Mrs. Rose, the doctor's wife, ran to a nearby telephone and called police. When the officers arrived the gun fight started.

County Officials Elected This Fall Get 4-Year Terms

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Attorney General John W. Bricker advised Secretary of State George S. Myers today that the bill providing four-year terms for all county officers would apply to all counties, however, does not become effective until July, after primary elections May 12.

Because of this, some had expressed the belief that it might not affect terms of officials elected in November. Bricker held that the term provided at the time of election in November governs and, therefore, all county officials would be chosen for four years.

The opinion did not take into consideration the possibility of a referendum being filed against the bill before the 90-day referendum period has expired. Such has been threatened.

Should a referendum be called, it generally is accepted that regardless of whether it is approved or defeated, the two-year term would govern elections this fall.

FIVE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS ON HIGHWAYS

State Patrol, Aroused, Will
"Bear Down" on Reckless Driving

Five persons were injured, one of them critically, in a series of automobile accidents near Salem late Monday. Three of the victims remained at Salem City hospital today.

Somewhat startled by the recent increase in the number of traffic mishaps in the district, members of the Salem state highway patrol station announced a drive to curb reckless driving by putting into effect rigid police measures.

F. S. Van Allen of the local barracks, quoting figures issued by the National Safety council, that "60 out of every 100 children born today are doomed to death or injury in motor accidents," said: "Our trips about the Columbiana and lower Mahoning county highways have revealed scores of reckless drivers on the roads today."

Heavy Fines Loom

"Hereafter, we're going to arrest the irresponsible motorist before he has a chance to get into an accident. Heavy fines may instill a little safe driving theory into his or her mind," he added.

Injured in yesterday's mishaps are:

Mrs. Eddie Ryan, 18, of 275 East Pennsylvania ave., Sebring. Fractured skull and numerous body scratches and bruises; also suffering from shock. Condition described as "poor."

Harriet Lindsey, 20, of Sebring. Cuts and bruises. Dismissed from City hospital after receiving first aid.

James Morakis, 50, of Canton. Injury to back of neck, abrasions lower lip and right knee. Condition "good."

Berry Peley, 42, also of Canton. Laceration on left wrist and abrasion. Treated and dismissed from City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, reported to be newlyweds, were injured when the machine in which they were riding, driven by D. J. Anderson of Youngstown, sideswiped a truck on the Damascus rd., four miles west of Salem, and then careened into a telephone pole.

Car Demolished

The car, a coupe, was practically demolished. Anderson escaped injury, although another passenger, Miss Harriet Lindsey of Sebring, received cuts and bruises.

State police said Anderson, driving west, sideswiped the truck, which was driven by C. Stevinski of Dayton. The truck was going east. Stevinski was not hurt.

The Ryans were unconscious when removed from the wreckage. She remained in a semi-conscious condition today.

TROLLEY CRASH FATAL TO ONE

Ten Other Passengers Injured In Springfield
Accident Today

(By Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, April 28.—Two passenger interurbans of the Cincinnati & Lake Erie Co., crashed head-on today nine miles north, killing one person and injuring at least 10.

The cars crashed on a curve at high speed at what is known as Donovan Hill.

Motorman Charles Patterson of Springfield, operator of a north-bound car, was killed. One of his legs was severed.

J. K. Linkhardt of Lima was the operator of the southbound interurban. Extent of his injuries was not determined immediately.

Ambulances from Springfield and Urbana took the injured, all passengers on the steel cars, to the Champaign county hospital at Urbana.

P. N. Van Scoy, a farmer living on the Urbana pike, was the first to reach the scene. He aided in extricating the injured from the wreckage.

CONFESSIOIN IN ROBBERY MADE

Postal Inspectors Get
Story from Garrettsville
Suspect

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 28.—The Cleveland News said today postal inspectors obtained a signed confession from John Brock, alias Harold Johnson, admitting participation in a $46,000 mail train robbery at Garrettsville, O., last Nov. 7, as a member of a gang headed by Alvin Karpis, labelled public enemy No. 1.

This new league, the other organizers of which were George L. Berry, president of the printing pressmen, and Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated clothing workers, was the object of an attack today by Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee.

Fletcher called the league's formation "a political maneuver carried out at the expense of the nation's taxpayers."

Fletcher said Berry, the President's industrial coordinator, tours the country "on funds of the federal government."

More Activity

There was activity also in the camps of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas and Col. Frank Knox of Chicago.

Missouri Republicans, in a convention at St. Louis, last night voted a resolution pledging the state's four delegates-at-large to work for the Landon nomination. The pledging of these four gives the Kansas 26 instructed delegates from the state.

Knox was given the support of the Cook county (Chicago) convention which will have 881 delegates to the state convention at Peoria, May 22.

Massachusetts also was holding a presidential primary today. In both parties voters had an opportunity to express their presidential preference, though the result will not bind either the Democratic or Republican convention delegates.

Mrs. Idelia Slagle Dies In Alliance

ALLIANCE, April 28.—Mrs. Idelia Slagle, 83, widow of William H. Slagle, died at 6:30 this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Freed, 213 East Grant st., after an illness of several months. Mrs. Slagle had suffered a stroke some time ago.

Born at Greenford, the daughter of Basil and Susan Bean, Mrs. Slagle spent most of her life near Greenford and Salem, going to Alliance 13 years ago. Her husband died 12 years ago. Two sons, Ralph E., and Charles D., also preceded her in death. She was a member of the First M. E. church of Alliance and the Harriet Porter Sunday school class of that church.

Surviving are two sons, H. L. Slagle, of the Benton rd., P. A. Slagle, of Johnston, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Albert Bonnell, of Ellsworth, and Mrs. G. R. Freed, of Alliance; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Baker, of Salem, and a half brother, Andrew Callahan, of Lisbon; 17 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Arbaugh funeral home in Salem, in charge of Rev. E. R. Romig of the First M. E. church in Alliance. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery at Salem. Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home on East State st., Salem.

Guilty On One Count

LISBON, April 28.—Ray McDole and Earnest McDole of East Liverpool, indicted on two counts by the April grand jury, were found guilty on one of the counts by a jury in common pleas court yesterday afternoon.

They were adjudged guilty on a charge of stealing an automobile. A count of driving without the owner's consent was ignored.

European peace negotiations, professedly delayed until after French elections last Sunday, will have to be postponed another week until runoff elections, necessary under French laws when no candidate receives a majority, determine composition of the new chamber of deputies.

Political observers believe—and some rightists concede—that the final vote will give the left "people's front" about 320 deputies, more than enough to form the next government. As usual in France, the government will be coalition in nature, composed of representatives from several left wing parties, and the old problem of developing cooperative action among liberal and radical elements of such a government will again agitate politicians. If that difficulty is surmounted and the new government presents a united front, French policy in the Rhineland crisis will continue to disturb Europe since leftists have deserted their traditional theories and have been most voluble in demanding punitive action against Germany.

In Spain, when the rights largely abstained from voting, the lefts scored another victory as voters chose 473 presidential electors who, with a similar number of parliament members, will elect a new president May 9. This triumph points to elevation of Premier Manuel Azana, popular front leader, to the presidency.

Despite concern manifest by conservatives, these two left-handed victories do not appear to presage raising of the scarlet banner over Madrid or Paris in the near future. But existing tension will not be allayed when, as is likely, these two important powers are represented by radical groups in ensuing peace conferences, by groups likely to think in terms of their cherished economic ideologies rather than upon international lines. European statesmen appear to have more woe added to their long list of troubles.

CAFETERIA JOB HUNTING

In times of abnormal stress such as the present, a helping hand often must be given to worthy persons who have been accustomed to finding their own way through the woods. Little blame can be attached to such persons who, for the first time in their lives, find themselves stumbling and in need of help. But because many fail, it is all the more encouraging to hear of a group that is willing and able to try to fight its own way out of the forest.

A group of unemployed young men, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., has been formed in Canton. Choosing the name Canton Young Men's Employment club, the new organization is to operate as a self-serve employment agency. After each man has completed a detailed questionnaire designed to reveal his complete employment qualifications and has familiarized himself with qualifications of his fellow members, the job hunt begins. If Bill Jones runs into a job that he can't fill, he's pretty sure to think of Tom Smith, who is just the man for the vacancy. As an additional stimulus to cooperative action, members will regularly hear speakers who are equipped to give advice and guidance in many diversified lines.

But the job hunt is the principal objective. With such a keen spirit prompting them, and with such a large net out in the industrial and business sea, the young men ought to catch some good fish. They deserve to.

YES AND NO

There continues to be evidence that the United States has not surrendered unconditionally its short-lived position as world leader of the lighter than air industry. Loss of the Akron and Macon shook national confidence, but apparently did not destroy the individual confidence of men close to development of those two unlucky ships.

Germany's success with the Graf Zeppelin and prospects of still greater success with the new Von Hindenburg suggest pointedly that this country's disheartening experiences may have been caused by inexperience, rather than by any inherent weakness in the theory and practice of airship construction and operation.

It is a matter which resolves itself finally into a question of the nation's tolerance of experimentation. Unfortunately, the cost of an airship discourages private development, unless public aid is available. Obviously, many governmental officials would like to take a chance on one, or perhaps two, more airships. However, with an eye for public opinion, they are taking a yes and no attitude.

In the meantime, Germany owns and operates the world's two greatest airships. France has its Normandie, and Great Britain has its Queen Mary to satisfy their desire for leadership in size. The United States, which is alternately amused and envious because it isn't a conspicuous "first" in either watercraft or aircraft, may yet yield to temptation and try to do something about one or both.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, April 28.—Few masculine figures on New York streets turn heads so surely as General John J. Pershing. Even before he is recognized, his erectness and superb carriage single him for attention. At 76, he has the stride of a competent young athlete.

Gen. Pershing, like most thinkers, is one of the leisurely window shoppers, a vast army that includes Charles M. Schwab, Dr. John H. Finley, Max Steur and Albert Einstein. When in New York, the General usually visits his club on Park avenue in the late afternoon.

One of his pet stories concerns an inspection tour of forts he made after the war. At Fort Sam Houston, he was out for a sundown stroll when he accosted two soldiers for a match for his cigar. They supplied him and walked on with marked indifference.

After a few steps they saw a Great Light. Only two days in the army they had run sprang into the big boss and had not saluted. They circled, timidly approached and apologized abjectly. "That's all right, boys," said Gen. Pershing, "but don't ever try that on a second lieutenant."

New York has many odd breakfasters. The late Edmund Breese liked plain lettuce and cup of orange juice. Lucius Beebe had one graham cracker, hot tea and two one-minute eggs spiked with Worcestershire and tobacco. Deac Aylesworth is partial to a baked apple with a nubbin of tarty cheese. Strangler Lewis likes steaming onion soup. But the wallowing breakfast of all is indulged in once or twice a week by that sturdy trencherman, Bob Davis. He orders a stack of wheats, bacon and soft boiled eggs, fried potatoes and coffee. He breaks the eggs over the hot cakes, crumbles the crisp bacon on top, decorates it all with French fries and smears the whole mess with splashes of maple syrup. Awk!

Someone in Charleston, S. C., sends in this description of Alexander Woolcott: "A Parker House roll with spectacles."

The metropolis has no outstanding polished gambler these days either in Wall Street or the roulette halls. And none is of the spectacular type expressed by John W. Gates, Jesse Livermore and Richard Canfield. The kingly today suggest Arnold Rothstein or Niek the Greek. Canfield was the most cultured of all. A friend of Whistler's, he roamed the European art galleries with aristocratic air and an understanding eye. His collection of Chippendale was considered discriminating. Great painters and sculptors liked to talk to him. Appraisers of art always consulted him.

About the most successful post-repeal night club impresario continues to be Sherman Billingsly, a soft spoken fellow who might be the proprietor of the leading furniture store in Enid, Okla., where he was born. His intake is said to be near a million a year and in a revealing article in a stage magazine admits that his $8,000 a year rental is usually covered by a $12,800 a year hat checking concession. He declares most night clubs are short lived because of the commission racket of provision dealers. Unless this is scotched it is impossible to survive. Another bankruptcy leak is theft by both customers and employees.

Monta Bell, the newspaperman who became a movie director, will spend the next three months in a tent in the heart of India filming a Kipling elephant story. He was preparing for a trip to America when he was selected for the job and in five hours took off in a plane for Mysore in a spray of inoculations against typhoid, small-pox, malarie and cholera.

During Gene Crawley's formative days in the Oklahoma oil fields, he asked a job applicant one day if he might be a "clock watcher." He replied: "No sir, I don't care for inside work. I'm a whistle listener."

(Issue of April 28, 1916.)

Amity lodge No. 124, I. O. O. F., is making plans for the last district meeting of the year on Thursday evening, May 25, when the local lodge will be host to members of the order from all over the country.

Washington—Dispatches received at the German embassy today from the Berlin foreign office indicate that Germany will try to meet the American demands for the immediate abandonment of its present practices in submarine warfare.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, April 29.

A particularly lively, enterprising and prosperous day in all departments of living is the presage based on important and benefic rule of major planets. There will be much advancement in big business, with friendly contacts and profitable associations with those in power, authority and social standing. Reactions from this will be felt in the purely private and social life, in which there may be much merriment and festivity, with romantic denouement. But there is a warning against a too impulsive or reckless plunging into any activities, business or private.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of great progress and prosperity, with a decided advance upon the goal of high ambitions. The co-operation and friendly interest of those in high places is assured and this will have a happy and festive revelation on the private life, which seems also to be overshadowed by a definite tinge of romance. But shun extravagance, impetuosity, tumult and strife.

A child born on this day may be capable, enterprising, progressive and ambitious, attaining its high goals by contacts with those in power and by indomitable will.

Typhus Fever

As a result of the winter's excessive snow, the spring rains, and early thaw, the authorities have been concerned with the many problems of public health and sanitation. These public servants are ever on the alert and it is largely because of their energetic efforts that epidemics of disease are prevented.

Many serious diseases arise as a result of filth and lack of sanitation. Measures normally enforced may become impossible by unexpected calamities, such as floods, tornadoes and earthquakes. When these occur there is often widespread infection by typhoid fever and other filth diseases. Typhus fever was at one time one of the most dreaded diseases of humanity. It was prevalent everywhere, afflicting rich and poor alike. The disease still exists in certain parts of the world, especially in those sections where unhygienic conditions still exist.

It is caused by a germ found in rats. This germ is carried from one rat to another, by mice and fleas. It is then transmitted to humans by fleas, and may be passed from one person to another.

Skin Eruption

The victim has a high fever, severe headache, chills and prostration. Eruptions of the skin appear about the third to the fifth day of the disease. But before the skin symptom appears the sufferer complains of weakness, with loss of "pep", backache, and possibly severe abdominal pain.

In the beginning, this disease may be confused with typhoid fever. But the doctor recognizes it at once when he notes the appearance of the skin rash. This is reddish in color, changing to a purplish hue. It covers the entire body with the exception of the face.

Typhus fever is a serious disease because it lowers the resistance of the individual against other infections. The danger of such a dreaded complication as broncho-pneumonia or pneumonia is always present.

To prevent complications it is always wise to transfer the patient to a hospital. If this is possible to arrange, the patient will be assured of the necessary care. In addition, he will be shut off so that the disease will not be transmitted to others.

Fortunately, the form of typhus encountered in this country in recent years has been of a mild nature. But even so, these cases require careful nursing and daily medical attention.

Personal cleanliness is essential to rapid recovery. The patient should be bathed daily and have fresh bed clothing and linen. Every effort must be made to discard soiled linen and attention given to the handling of all contaminated bed clothes.

Answers to Health Queries

R. M. Q.—What can be done to relieve piles?

A.—Overcome the underlying cause first of all. For full particulars send a self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

Rena. Q.—I am 25 years old and of a nervous nature. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh only 116 pounds. Will you please tell me how to increase my weight.

A.—Make every effort to build up the general health. For full particulars restate your question and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

D. P. Q.—What treatment will help an ill-shaped nose? My nose was broken at the age of six by an ice slide. Would an operation be of any advantage?

A.—An operation might be of advantage under such circumstances. Consult a specialist for his opinion and advice.

Mrs. J. B. M. Q.—What can be done for epilepsy in a young man of 25? He has suffered for seven or eight years.

A.—Every effort should be made to locate the underlying cause of the trouble. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. R. M. Q.—Is psoriasis apt to be hereditary? Would there be any danger that children would inherit the disease if the father was afflicted?

A.—No. This is not generally considered as hereditary.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

"Steals" Kittens

DELAWARE, April 28.—A mongrel female dog named Midge defied all efforts today to take from her four kittens she "stole" from their rightful mother and adopted for her own. Mr. and Mrs. John Stall, owners of the cat and dog, said Midge actually was nursing the kittens, while the true mother looked on mournfully from a respectful distance.

Comedian Accused

AKRON, April 28.—Cliff (Sharliff) Hail, radio comedian, was returned to New York city yesterday to face charges that he failed to provide for his eight-year-old son. He was arrested Thursday. His wife, June Rogers, stage actress, filed the charges.

Day's News

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—ONE COAL deposit in Colfax County, if all the power it contains could be actually applied, would run all the machinery in the United States for a century.

If all the power locked up in the ATOMS that make up the thirty thousand million tons of coal could be released and utilized, that power would run the present machinery of this nation for one million years with plenty of power left over.

CROSSING the continent on the surface seems slow after the round trip by air, leaving New York at four in the afternoon, breakfasting in San Francisco next morning at eight-thirty.

But rail travel has one great advantage—you see the country and keep track of it. In the air, clouds look much alike, except when they develop what the pilot calls "angry lightning."

THIS TRAIN stops at Snopton, Iowa. You see the Mississippi, wide just there, feel that you are beginning to reach "out west" and are glad to see each little house and big barn as you go.

ON THE platform at Marceline, Mo., stands a sample of American energy, defying depression, a very small girl about fourteen. The young lady carries a pasteboard box filled with neckties, offering them for sale, eager and courageously.

"My mother makes these neckties," she says, "and I help her. They are very good, they will last as long as you live."

The last statement, considering her customer, might be true. Twenty-five cents, some silk, fifty cents. Sorry that she cannot change a dollar, she suggests, successfully, that the entire dollar be invested.

"You can give them to friends, you know," she says.

Business over, "Say, mister, what do you do for a living?" Told that you write, she says, "That is my ambition too. I sent a novel to Good Housekeeping Magazine, my mother reads it, but they sent it back with a nice letter. That is just luck, you know, I have written three more novels."

That young lady will write good novels, and they will be printed. JUST NOW, which is the next morning the heavy train puffs and pants up the steep eastern side of the Rocky Mountains to Raton, New Mexico, six thousand and thirty-five feet above sea level.

At the front end, two enormous locomotives pull, at the rear another pushes, all pouring out thick clouds of black smoke.

On the winding, well-built road beside the railroad track, small automobiles, carrying whole families, often with bedding on one end, a dog or goat on the other running board shoot up the hill, despising it.

It is difficult to think of man and his petty accomplishments, with the great mountains around you, but you must do it, for all that men will ever have is what they make out of this earth.

CONSIDER how differently POWER has been applied. Once the Indians walked up these trails, their squaws carrying the load. Then oxen and horses wearily struggled and panted upward, stopping often to breathe. Then came the marvelous steam engine, dragging its thousands of tons.

Then the more marvelous automobile, defying gravity, reducing the cost of travel to almost nothing.

Then the airplane that starts its journey ten thousand feet up, flies over mountains, trains and automobiles, with a supreme contempt for lakes and rivers.

What man can imagine he can do and his descendants will fly around this earth in the twenty-four hours in which the sun seems to fly around it.

Uncle Asks Probe In Student's Death

CHICAGO, April 28.—A thorough investigation of the death of Jack Schiffer, 21, whose brilliant career at the University of Chicago was ended by a single thrust of an antique surgeon's knife, was demanded today by his uncle, Sergeant James Sullivan, listed the case as a suicide last night but the uncle, Benjamin Elboom, asserted he was dissatisfied with that theory.

"I don't see how anybody could stick a knife into himself like that," Elboom said. "He was a model boy and had no troubles. I am going to demand a thorough investigation."

"THERE'S MURDER IN THE AIR"

by ROY CHANSLOR

SYNOPSIS

Ruth Tyler, blind daughter of former District Attorney Dan Tyler, is psychic. She foretells murders at the exact time they are being committed but is powerless to give sufficient information to prevent them. These weird visitations come upon Ruth while she plays her violin and always at night. Mr. Tyler seeks the aid of Dr. Jan Karsk, celebrated psychiatrist, but the latter must go to Baltimore on another case, so he assigns his young assistant, Nat Gordon, to the job, suggesting that Tyler give Nat only Ruth's background and let him find out the details himself. Nat arrives at the old Tyler home on East 75th Street at midnight. He is puzzled when Tyler tries to explain that his daughter is a mental case and is not unbalanced. Suddenly the strains of a violin come in upon their conversation, stopping abruptly. Rushing to follow, Tyler rushes to Ruth's room where they find the girl terror-stricken. "It began—as always," she whispered. "And then—it happened!" Tyler thinks it best to tell Ruth not to know she is being audited. At breakfast, next morning, Nat is introduced to the city on a visit. He is touched by Ruth's gentleness and beauty. She is a talented violinist and that night entertains Nat with her playing. In the middle of a fine song, there is a crashing sound and the music ceases. "Murder!" she says hoarsely. "He is going to kill Mr. Roosevelt!"

"The man marked for death is Paul Y. Gordon," Ruth said.

Mr. Roosevelt is safe! Missed Roosevelt! Words! I got the radio! Nat rushes to the radio and, sure enough, the announcement of the attempted assassination of the President-elect comes over the air. Ruth collapses. Nat partially explains the phenomenon by saying some persons have the power of receiving thoughts from the minds of others. Weeks pass and all is quiet. Then one April night terror again grips Ruth.

CHAPTER VI

"There's murder in the air!" Ruth said, and for the first time since the vague dread had first made itself known in her mind, she knew what she must do. All at once, as if a shutter had been opened in her mind, to admit a flood of light, she was no longer afraid of her power. She welcomed it, determined to use it to its utmost.

For a fraction of a second she felt the strained nerves of her father flash before her. Then she shut them completely. She did not even let her father's sharp exclamation, nor Nat's warning, "Shh!" She did not know that Nat had heard her father's arm, held him back from her. She moved her fingers slightly on the strings, waited.

it, of course. But Nat would not interfere.

She tucked the violin under her chin. It was a wonderful instrument, a very old Amati said to have once been the property of the Italian magician Castiglione. She poised the bow, waited for the utter compulsion to play. It came almost at once. Gently she drew the bow across the strings. And in her mind the shutter slowly opened, and the light came in. She stopped, her fingers taut on the strings.

At the first sound Nat was out of his chair. He stood waiting, unwilling to allow a single footfall to break the tension. Then the music stopped, and Nat started swiftly down the hall. He heard Tyler's door open. The man was coming too. Nat reached the door first, opened it swiftly but quietly, switched on the light. Tyler crowded close behind him. Nat flashed him a warning look, and Tyler nodded, humbly.

They stood tense, still, staring at the girl. If she realized their presence, she gave no sign. Then she began to speak:

"Gordon... Gordon... Gordon"

"The name is Gordon." Tyler started to open his lips, but Nat's swift pressure of his arm restrained him from speech. Both men were thinking the same thing: Gordon! A common name. There are many Gordons!

Ruth stood as before, waiting. Would nothing come but that name, Gordon? She resolutely shut all thought from her mind, kept it open, as completely receptive as she was able, and waited. The feeling of another's hate that came to her was a malevolent, malignant thing. Yet she was not afraid now. It was a different kind of hate from that of Zangara. That had been a fanatic, almost maniacal thing. This was colder, even more evil, but controlled, cunning, careful. It was planning death for this Gordon; that, she knew. But the will was not yet ready to translate the plan into action. It was a waiting hate.

And then she got the complete name, in a flash, as if that hate were dictating it, gloatingly: Paul Y. Gordon. Paul Y. Gordon. That was all she wanted now. She was aware, completely, then, of the presence of Nat and her father. She dropped her bow, turned to them quickly.

"The man marked for death is Paul Y. Gordon," she said. "Are you sure?" said Nat gently. "Quite sure," she said, in her most natural voice. "There is only one Paul Y. Gordon that I know of," said Tyler. "The interlunar banker?" Nat said.

Tyler nodded. "I'll get him on the phone," Nat said.

He thumbed through the Manhattan telephone-book. There was no Paul Y. Gordon listed. "Either he has a private, unlisted wire, or he lives in the country," Nat said. He dialed Information, and was told, after a time, that there was a Paul Y. Gordon listed in Westchester. He took down the number and dialed the operator.

Nat did not undress. He was convinced that the girl would play again, sometime during that night. And equally sure that unless murder had already been done, she would get the danger-signals once more. He arranged a reading-light by the open door, placed his chair so that he could see Ruth's door at the end of the hall at all times.

He made himself read a novel, but he kept his ears alert; when the time came, he would get to Ruth before her father could reach her.

Ruth lay very quietly in her bed, waiting. She heard her father come up the stairs, recognized the so-familiar footsteps. And her super-sensitive ears caught the vibrations of his restless pacing. Her heart went out to him, but she lay still, waiting. She heard Nat come upstairs too, heard him moving the chair, the lamp, knew that he was keeping vigil. That knowledge warmed and heartened her.

She was thankful when she realized that her father had stopped his agonized stalking of the floor. She hoped he would sleep. She would not sleep if she could—and could not if she would. The hours passed slowly. In her mind she groped for the shutter which would let in the light—until she realized that it was beyond her power to open it.

No, the shutter had to be opened from the outside. And when that realization had become very clear to her, she knew that it would open, soon... presently she knew that it was time. Very quietly she got up, felt for her violin. She would play it very, very softly, hoping not to wake her father. Nat would hear

Gold Fish Require Clean Tank, Humane Society Leaders Say

Living in another element than ours, the decorative gold fish may appear to belong to a fantastic fairland of water babies, but those who have kept them know how very real they are, and how much care is necessary for their well-being.

For those who have trouble with gold fish the Columbiana County Humane society has some good advice to offer during this Be Kind to Animals anniversary.

Straight-Sided Tanks
The tank of the fish should be straight sided, and not tapered in at the top. The tapered tank cuts off some of the air supply which the fish needs to absorb from the surface. Plants are necessary in

Why Banks

must Charge for Certain Services

There are many valuable free services which every bank is glad to render.

But there are other services for which a moderate charge is entirely right and proper.

Like any other business, a bank must be operated profitably. Unless it does earn money it cannot be a safe place for its depositors' money, or continue to give the service that is expected of it.

Banks, generally, make very few direct charges, and only where they feel such charges are necessary to the proper conduct of their business. These charges are usually small in comparison with those made for similar services in other lines of business.

Every bank patron should appreciate the value of these services and cooperate with the bank in its efforts to benefit the community and every individual.

Why Young Men Went West

It seems apparent why young men went west in the troublesome 1800's if these four charming young ladies, rehearsing for an episode in the historical pageant featuring the Texas Centennial at Dallas, are true examples of the feminine pioneers who rode the covered wagon trails.

the aquarium, as they produce oxygen for the fish, and the fish in turn produce carbon dioxide for the plants. The plants suggested are eel grass, fanwort, aquatic moss, pond weed, and water weeds.

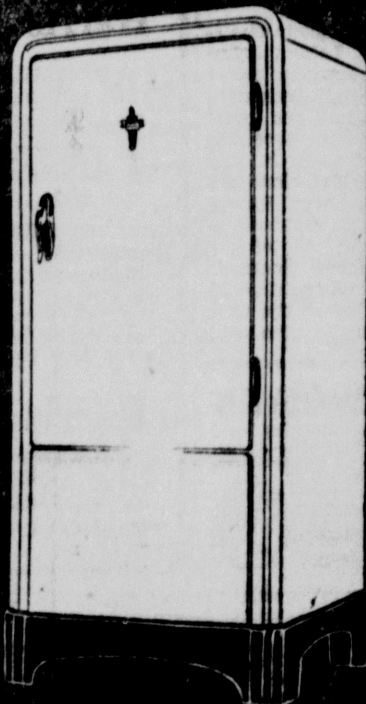

Turtles and frogs should not be kept in the tank with the fish. A small snail or two will help keep the tank clean.

Large pieces of dead plant should be removed with a stick. Fingers should not be applied to the water at any time.

Gassing fish occasionally will rise to the top off the water, which is probably an indication that there are too many fish in the tank for the volume of water. In that event,

Lydia Bible Class Plans Banquet

Plans for a Mother and Daughter banquet and for serving the dinner at the annual banquet of the Junior and Senior classes of the North Lima High school occupied members of the Lydia Bible class of the English Lutheran church Monday at their meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Paul Ritchie on Morris st.

The Mother and Daughter banquet, for members of the church, is scheduled for May 6 at the church. The affair is sponsored by the Jessie Thomas circle, younger women's missionary band.

The North Lima students' banquet will be served in the local church on May 15 by the Lydia Bible class members.

Mrs. Donald Cobb, president, was in charge during the business meeting. Mrs. Mary Egan led the devotion on the topic, "How Christ Saves."

A lunch and social period followed the meeting. Mrs. Ritchie and her associate hostesses, Mrs. John Wilkinson and Mrs. Allen Helmick, served the lunch.

The next meeting will be May 25 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Blackburn on Rose st.

Mrs. Francis Carter Dinner Speaker

An interesting and enjoyable program, with a talk by Mrs. Francis Blackman Carter of Cleveland, for many years a teacher in South America and speaker and lecturer of note, has been arranged for the Methodist Mother-Daughter banquet at the church at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Carter's topic will be "Home Life in Latin America."

Tickets and reservations are in charge of a committee which includes Mrs. W. L. Hart, Mrs. Paul Holwick, Mrs. Ralph McGhee, Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. C. E. McCluggage. Mrs. R. E. Smucker and Mrs. H. J. Thompson are in charge of the program and Mrs. G. E. Byers, decorations.

All who plan to attend are asked to make reservations immediately.

Honor Members of Millville Club

Members of the Millville Community club honored Mr. and Mrs. George Shepherd last night at a farewell party at the schoolhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd are moving to their new home near Guilford in a few days. A coverdish dinner was followed by a social evening when the club presented a gift to the couple. Mrs. Winifred Baker, who made the presentation, gave a short talk.

Newlyweds Honored At Akron Party

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Benjamin of East Pershing st., recently married, were honored Sunday by members of the Beta Delta club of Alliance at a party in Akron. About 40 couples attended the affair, a dinner-dance. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin, formerly of Akron, were married in March. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Art of Alliance and Miss Betty Long of Salem.

Novelty Dance At Masonic Temple

Eastern Stars will give a novelty dance tonight at the temple for members, Masons and friends. Ray Bartholomew's orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 12. Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. Theodore Jewell are chairmen of the committee in charge.

Mrs. Merle Caldwell Circle Hostess

Members of the Jessie Thomas circle of the English Lutheran church will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Merle Caldwell on South Union ave.

Meeting Postponed

The business meeting of the N. E. L. class of the First Friends church, scheduled for tonight at the church, has been postponed until Thursday night.

Mrs. Robert Beattie is recovering at her home on South Broadway from an injury to her eye, suffered while at work in an East State st. store Saturday. Pieces of glass lodged in her eye when a lamp fell to the floor and the bulb was shattered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Springer and children and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley, have returned from Claremont, Fla., where they spent the winter. Mrs. Springer is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Edwin Adair Webb of Philadelphia is a guest at the home of his cousins, Mrs. Ada Hawkins and Miss Ava Webb of Franklin rd. Mr. Webb was formerly of Salem. His father, Dr. Charles Webb was a physician here a number of years ago.

Queen Shenandoah XIII

Miss Cornelia Larus, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Larus, of Richmond, Va., has been named Queen Shenandoah XIII, to rule over the thirteenth annual Shenandoah apple blossom festival late this month.

Flower Show Planned By Garden Club

Plans for a flower show in Salem this summer or early fall were discussed Monday afternoon when members of the Salem Garden club met at the Memorial building. Mrs. C. R. Votaw, president, was in charge of the meeting. The plans for the show were only tentative and a committee will be appointed at a later date to complete arrangements.

Several announcements, made by Mrs. Votaw, were of interest. Mrs. W. F. Bolen and Mrs. Leland Johnson were delegated to represent the Garden club at the meetings of the civic improvement society recently organized by Mayor George Harhoff.

Forty in Ohio Group
The Salem extension of the Ohio Garden club, of which a number of the Garden club are members, is headed by Mrs. R. R. Miller, with Mrs. G. W. McKee as secretary-treasurer and has a membership of 40 at the present time.

Mrs. J. E. Bentley was named ticket chairman for the Salem Garden club to assist in the work for the Youngstown Garden Forum flower show which will be held Sept. 11, 12 and 13 in Youngstown. The local group will have an exhibit at the Lisbon flower show in August, the exact date for which has not been determined. Mrs. Votaw announced that she would appoint a committee to arrange for the type of display and the details of the exhibition.

Mrs. Burrill Leeper, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Leland Johnson, who gave an interesting paper on "Our Wild Flowers," presenting an account of the conditions under which the plants grow, necessary elements for growing them in wild flower gardens, best locations for such gardens, arrangement, formation, construction and grouping of flowers. Mrs. Johnson pointed out that wild flowers must bloom in their season, April 10 to May 10, to be able to bloom before the trees begin to leaf. Otherwise, she said, the leaves would prevent moisture and sunlight from reaching the plants.

Illustrated Talk
Miss Martha Wire addressed the club on flower arrangement in proper containers. Miss Wire had a table of various types of bouquets to illustrate her talk, showing the most adaptable kinds of containers. Miss Wire pointed out that while there are a variety of containers from which to choose, black, white, cream, deep blue and green shades are best. Miss Wire said that in choosing containers for effective arrangement of flowers, simplicity is the mark of good taste.

Mrs. Votaw read an article on "Fertilization" by Victor Ries, horticultural head of Ohio State university.

A "bargain mart" was announced for the next meeting, the date to be announced later. Each member will bring to the meeting a plant, bulb or root to trade for something which another member has brought.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, April 28. — Wheat scored all around upturns in price early today after a hesitant start. Official figures on rainfall southwest were smaller than yesterday's reports had indicated and there was anxiety lest a sharp rise of temperatures might again make a rapid adverse change of the domestic hard winter crop outlook.
Opening unchanged to 1/2 cent up, May 1/4-98, July 87-87 1/4, wheat soon showed a general advance. Corn started at 1/2 decline to 1/4 gain, May 61 1/2-3/4, and then firmed.

FIVE HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS

Sebring Woman in Critical Condition in City Hospital

Eve, SW. Canton, was hurt when the truck in which he was riding with Peley, of 3121 Logan ave., NW, Canton, was struck head-on by a machine which pulled out of the line of traffic coming in the opposite direction, police said.

John Burns of Enon Valley, Pa., driver of the other car, miraculously escaped injury, the patrolmen said. The mishap also occurred on the Damascus rd., two miles west of Salem.

No one was injured in the third mishap, which occurred at 5:10 p. m. yesterday on the Benton rd., one-half mile northwest of the city.

The officers, who investigated, said Daniel Weber of 193 South Broadway slowed down on the highway to pick up a hitch-hiker and that a car, driven by M. G. Cattell of R. D. 5, Salem, crashed into the rear of Weber's auto.

Fireworks Due to Start In City Tenpin Tournament Tonight

Last Half of Five-Man Event Under Way; Orphans Get Final Chance for Big Score

Knights of Columbus, Tournament Leader, Will Not Riff Final Three Games Until Thursday; Sinks Appear As Possible Money Winner

The fireworks are due to start popping in the five-man event of the city handicap tenpin tournament tonight, and if things go off in their right order it will probably be Bill Finley's Orphans that do most of the shooting.

In second place with 2,947 as the last half of the team event gets under way, the Orphans are offered their final chance to roll a score that will combine with their previous one to place them in the money. It is the belief of most observers that another score of 2,900 or better for their final three games at the Grate Recreation alleys tonight would do the trick.

The Knights of Columbus, who are leading the tournament with 172-pin advantage over the Orphans, will not roll their final games until Thursday, but speculation is that they will be unable to come within 300 pins of the 3,119 score they rolled last week.

Change Date

The K. of C.'s were originally scheduled to wind up their competition in the five-man event tonight, but a last-minute change was made when one of their regulars could not be present.

The Orphans who list a 306-pin handicap, base their hopes for a good score on Captain Finley, Harry Calladine, "Mike" Hutter, Lawrence Reasbeck and A. Dixon. Finley hit 573 in the team's first three games last week while, Calladine chalked up 578, Hutter, 497, Reasbeck, 486 and Dixon, 507.

Outside of Finley's aggregation, only Mullins Sinks appear as a possible money winner among the other seven teams that will roll their final three games in the tournament at either the Grate Recreation or Masonic drives to-night.

The Sinks, composed of Curt Shephard, Dick Shephard, Paul Covert, Bob White and "Pete" Johnson, are fourth in the standings at the present time with a score of 2,851.

Other Teams

Other teams that will bowl are: Masons "B", Merit Shoes, Ohio Edison, People's Lumber, Masons "A", and Saxon club.

Although only three of the six games in the five-man event have been rolled and competition in the doubles and singles has not started, Bob Tubbs of the K. of C. five holes first place in the all-events race with a 664, which includes a 63-pin handicap. Second to Tubbs is "Fat" Bolen of the K. of C. with 647 (handicap, 78) while tied for third position are Clyde Miller of the Salem News quintet and Wes Davis of the News Boosters, each with 642.

In order to win money in the all-events class, bowlers must win in the five-man, doubles and singles.

AP HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB INCREASES

Nashville Boosts Total To 12 Members To Lead Cities

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 28.—The Associated Press hole-in-one club roster today showed Nashville, Tenn., leading all other cities in the nation in the race for one-shot golf honors.

Nashville, with four new members this week, boosted its total to 12 to shade Dallas, Tex., by one member and thereby supplanted that city at the head of the list. Fort Worth, Tex., has seven.

Texas was far in the lead as far as states go with 35 accers, with Tennessee second with 17 and Ohio third with 13.

All four of the new Nashville entrants rode in on wood shots, Gordon Sawyer leading in the matter of distance with a 270 yards ace on the 12th hole of the Shelby course. Mrs. J. B. Alexander was second in distance, whaling one in from 225 yards on the sixth hole at the Oriental, while Horace D. Box made his on the opening shot of his round at the Oriental. Billy Howe nailed one from 200 yards on the 15th at Belle Meade.

The club gained a new member from golf's upper crust as Mike Turnesa, professional of Elmsford, N. Y., sank his first shot on the 165 yard seventh at the Fairview Country club.

AWAIT RUNNING OF 62ND DERBY

Louisville Gay As It Prepares to Receive Huge Crowd of Fans

BY ORLO ROBERTSON, Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28.—Like a mighty volcano, seething to unloosen its roaring charge, this blue grass metropolis awaited today the 62nd running of the Kentucky Derby.

Outwardly there was little to indicate that four days hence the pick of the three-year-olds would answer the bugle call at Churchill Downs for the country's greatest turf classic.

Multi-colored banners, strung across the business streets, gaily dressed windows and the columns of the press quietly reminded one that this is Derby week. But there was no hysteria.

Seem Unconcerned

Underneath all this seemingly unconcerned appearance, however, there was a restlessness, which, if it runs true to form, will burst loose with a roar Friday and Saturday, when the multitude descends on the city. Some 17,000 Kentucky colons and admirals were restored to good standing yesterday by Acting Gov. James E. Wise.

Hotel clerks carried a worried look as they sought to find ways to crowd a few more into space, long since reserved.

The Downs itself will not assume a festive atmosphere until the day before the race, today its straggling stands were bare and forsaken except in spots where the few thousand gathered to watch several of the leading Derby candidates match strides in the one mile of "the track."

Different Story

Across the track in the green-painted barns, there was a different story, here could be found activity as the horsemen went about the task of preparing the three-year-olds for the big race.

Here and there could be found a group of exercise boys or jockeys discussing only one subject—the Derby. Almost without exception they picked J. E. Widener's Brevity as the horse to beat over the one and one-quarter miles. Asked to pick a horse most likely to turn the trick and they were almost as far apart as the poles.

One mentioned William Woodward's Granville.

"But what's the matter with Grand Slam," countered another.

"I'll take Banister," replied a little colored boy, the must have been from E. R. Bradley's stable.

And then, in rapid succession came the names of such good horses as The Fighter, Tufel, Coldstream and Indian Broom.

Mullins Foremen Keglers Win Class A Loop Crown

Mullins Sinks Finish In Second Place While Salem News Quintet Takes Third Honors

From fourth place in 1935 to first place in 1936.

That's the record of the Mullins Foremen's club keglers, who won the championship of the Class A city bowling league, according to the final standings announced today by John Carpenter, secretary of the city bowling association.

The Foremen, who won 60 games and lost 24 during the season, were closely followed by Mullins Sinks, who gained the verdict in 58 games and suffered defeat in 26 to take runner-up honors.

Finishing the season with a brilliant rally that saw them win 17 out of 18 games in the last round, the Salem News five annexed third place in the league with 51 victories as against 33 defeats.

The final standing of the Class A loop is as follows:

WON LAST PCT.
Mullins Foremen 60 24 714
Mullins Sinks 58 26 690
Salem News 51 33 607
City Hall 43 41 512
K. of C. 38 46 452
Elks 36 48 429
Masons 26 57 313
Legion 23 60 277

The Masons, although finishing seventh in the league, received credit for the high single game of the season. Their record score was 1,018. The Sinks had the second high single game of 1,010.

The league champion Foremen turned in the high three game score of 2,889. The Sinks were again second with a 2,869.

A 285 by Curt Shephard of the Sinks was the high individual single game while the high individual three games was a 644 rolled by Mayor George Harroff of the Foremen. Charles West's 262 was the second best single game rolled during the season and Forest Bishop of the News had the second high three game score of 635.

Leading throughout the entire season, Charles Wernet of the City Hall five copped individual honors of the league with an average of 182 for 75 games.

Seventh Last Year
Wernet finished seventh among the bowlers in the Class A league last year with an average of 180.

Second to Wernet for the season was Bob White of Mullins Sinks, who averaged 179.1 in 68 games. White, who ranked nineteenth in 1935, turned in a season average four-tenths of a pin better than Curt Shephard of the Sinks and five-tenths of a pin better than Mayor George Harroff of Mullins Foremen, who won individual honors in 1935. Shephard had 178.7 and Harroff, 178.6.

"Chick" DeCrown of the Knights of Columbus, who ended thirty-fourth last year with an average of 161, moved up in the rankings this year to take fifth place with 178.

Miami Also In Lead For Conference Title With Three Victories

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 28.—Miami University and Ohio Wesleyan rode the crest of the Buckeye conference baseball seas today, while Marshall of Huntington, W. Va., champion the last three seasons, was tied for last place with Dayton.

The Marshall team, riddled by graduation last June, dropped both its starts last week-end. Miami upset the West Virginia herd by 8 to 2, and Cincinnati added a 9 to 2 setback.

Miami is on top of the heap with three wins in a row, including a 4 to 3 victory over Dayton, a 6 to 4 verdict over Ohio university, and the Marshall conquest. Wesleyan is a notch behind with two wins in as many starts, the victories being 11 to 2 over Ohio U., and 22 to 6 over Dayton.

Play Friday
Miami is slated to play Cincinnati Friday, and Dayton Saturday, while Wesleyan stacks up against Ohio Friday and Marshall Saturday.

Along with the four Buckeye baseball tilts, two track meets are scheduled this week-end. Miami, victor over the champion Ohio U. thinclads by 83 to 48 last Saturday, meets Wesleyan at Delaware. The Bishops hold a 69½ to 61½ victory over Ohio, the dope giving Miami the edge in the coming scrap.

The other meet takes Cincinnati to Ohio U., and should furnish an indication of the Bearcat possibilities in the Buckeye classic scheduled May 22 and 23 at Oxford.

Predict Shikat Trouble Ended

BOSTON, April 28.—When Dick Shikat lost his claim to the heavyweight wrestling crown during a match with Ali Baba in Detroit last Friday, Joe Alvarez, Boston wrestling matchmaker, lost interest in Shikat, he intimated today.

Shikat, injured in his Detroit match, cancelled a scheduled engagement in Cleveland Wednesday.

American League Managers Scan Record Of Cleveland But Find No Consolation

Indians Currently Are Leading the Pack With Eight Wins In 11 Starts; O'Neill Seems to Have Moulded Cohesive Team

American league managers are scanning the record of the Cleveland Indians these days and finding therein little solace for the road that lies ahead.

The Indians currently are leading the pack with eight wins in 11 starts this season. However, it isn't the number of victories but the way they scored them that impresses the old hands of baseball campaigning.

Steve O'Neill, of the square jaw and steady eye, has moulded a cohesive band of ball players who will fight you down the line until the last ball has been pitched and the last blow struck. The Indians have been thumping the horsehide with vigor and their pitching gets better as the season moves along.

Plenty of Stuff
Mel Harder, Oral Hildebrand, Johnny Allen, Lloyd Brown and George Blaholder all have been showing plenty of stuff and if Willis Hudin takes a new lease on life the Indians will have a pitching staff that may make the fans forget the Tigers, the Red Sox, the Yankees and the rest. Harold Trosky, the fence buster; Earl Averill, Joe Vosmik and Bruce Campbell seem capable of taking care of the heavy batting chores.

Trosky is leading the league in home runs with five and his 16 runs batted in is only one behind Bill Dickey of the Yankees.

Brown, Harder, Allen and Blaholder all have gone the distance and won. Harder and Allen each have notched two victories single-handed.

Blaholder came into his own in his first start of the season yesterday when he held the St. Louis Browns to seven hits and won his game 2-1, but it was Campbell's homer in the seventh that provided the winning run.

Only Game
It was the only game played in the American league, the only other major league contest being played in the National circuit where the Cincinnati Reds nosed out the Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings.

The Indians scored their first run in the opening frame when Roy Hughes singled to right, stole second, went to third on Averill's fly to the outfield, and came home on Vosmik's single to left.

The Browns tied the score in the fourth on Harland Clift's triple and Rollie Hemsey's single to left. It was Cleveland's fifth victory in six games with the Browns.

Ernie Lombardi's double with two gone in the last of the tenth started the Reds on the road to victory. Tommy Thevenow met one of Lon Warneke's slants for a single and the game was over. Warneke went into the game in the sixth after Larry French had been taken out for a pinch hitter and until that tenth inning gave the rising Reds only two bingles.

Billy Herman, the two bagger king of last year, connected for another of his favorite blows, along with a triple, while Chuck Klein picked up three safeties for himself.

FIERY GRIMES AGAIN OUSTED

Louisville Manager Ordered to Showers For Third Time

CHICAGO, April 28.—Manager Burleigh Grimes of the Louisville Colonels, if he holds his present pace, may get a record this season for being chased out of American association games.

The fiery Grimes was ordered to the showers yesterday as his club took a 3-1 beating from St. Paul. It was the third time since the season opened that Grimes, former major league spitball twirling star, has been ordered off the field.

On Sunday, Grimes was chased for disputing ball and strike decisions. Yesterday he didn't like the way Umpire Rue was calling them on the Louisville hurler, "Buck" Marrow, and Rue waved the Colonel pilot to the showers.

The Saints scored twice in the ninth on two walks and Steinbacker's double to win. It was St. Paul's third straight victory over the crippled Colonels, who have four regulars out of their lineup.

Minneapolis and Indianapolis and Kansas City and Columbus were rained out. Milwaukee and Toledo were not scheduled.

Canton Has Workout

CANTON, April 28.—Chuck Bauder, prospective outfielder, furnished the fireworks yesterday as Manager Pat Patterson sent his Canton terriers through their first intra-squad game yesterday. Bauder knocked four drives over the fence. The Mid-Atlantic season opens one week from tomorrow.

Irvin S. Cobb in his first starring picture, "Everybody's Old Man," showing at the State Wednesday and Thursday on a double bill.

Two highly praised feature pictures will be shown on a double bill at the State Wednesday and Thursday. "The Unguarded Hour" co-stars Loretta Young and Franchot Tone while the second film has Irvin S. Cobb as the "whole show" in "Everybody's Old Man."

Loretta Young and Franchot Tone are seen as two young lovers, married and extremely happy. The story reveals how one "unguarded hour" out of their day almost ruined their entire lives. Tone plays a very important attorney whose brilliancy enables him to convict men on circumstantial evidence.

Caught Himself

In his most sensational case Tone finds his wife the witness whose testimony proves the innocence of the defendant. He is then himself caught in a net of circumstantial evidence that nearly sends him to the gallows for a crime he did not commit. He experiences the thoughts of many of the men whom he convicted on purely that type of evidence, and he realizes what a horrible thing he has made of his law practice.

The supporting cast is very good, including Roland Young, Lewis Stone, Jessie Ralph, Dudley Digges and the old silent star, Alleen Pringle. Elmer Glynn's selection for the leading screen role in her famous story, "Three Weeks."

A real comedian, not only through his pen but by his acting, Irvin S. Cobb makes "Everybody's Old Man" an excellent comedy. Rochelle Hudson, Norman Foster, Johnny Downs, Sara Haden, Alan Dinchart and Warren Hymer assist Cobb in this wholesome yarn about a captain of industry who throws over his business to take a couple of unruly youngsters in hand. These two young people, children of his competitor, are running loose in the Parisian hot-spots.

Once Loved Their Mother

He is drawn to them because he once loved their mother. Taking the couple, played by Downs and Miss Hudson, in tow, he returns to the United States. Here he not only brings the kids to their senses but promotes a match between Miss Hudson and his nephew portrayed by Norman Foster.

Representative Bertrand H. Snell of Potsdam, N. Y., Minority Leader in the House, has been selected as the tentative permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention at Cleveland.

of the federal government at least 25 per cent. Year by year the expenditures of the federal government have mounted.

"In 1934 they were $8,761,000,000; in 1935 they were $11,761,000,000 and for 1936 they will be approximately $13,000,000,000. Instead of balancing the budget, we have seen mounting deficits growing year by year and a mounting public debt until now the national debt stands at the all time high total of more than $32,000,000,000, and by the end of this year will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $36,000,000,000, an increase in the debt of the federal government of approximately $14,000,000,000, piled upon the shoulders of the taxpayers of this country in three years time by a government pledged to governmental economy and the balancing of governmental budgets; and the piling up of the public debt goes on apace.

Debt Mounting Rapidly
"Minute by minute, the public debt goes at the rate of over $1,000 a second approximately $65,000 a minute. I have been talking approximately two minutes and in that time the public debt has increased by the sum of more than $130,000 and by the time I shall have finished this speech the public debt will have grown by more than $130,000.

"And what is the remedy? "The same remedy that must always be applied where a course of action or a policy results in failure—namely, change the course of action. Kick out the brain trusters responsible for devising the futile theory of recovery through governmental spending. Stop the wastage of public funds or fantastic experimentation. Stop the policy of opening American markets to the manufacturers and farmers of all the world.

"Restore that market to our people in industry and agriculture by rebuilding our tariff rates or, if necessary, by the imposition of limited quotas on imports of foreign goods. Let it be known that the era of extravagant governmental expenditures has passed.

"Balance the national budget at the earliest possible opportunity. Stop the boondoggling on government relief projects and confine work relief to those projects so sorely needed that they will have an enduring economic value and let it be known that relief, freed of politics and of the economic overhead with which politics has burdened it, will be continued under local administration for all those who are in need or until such time as they can again become self-supporting citizens. Let those who are in their declining years hope to find security against the vicissitudes of fortune. Understand that security will be furnished not as a political gesture and on paper only, but freed of political subtleties and dependable, a social safeguard, beneficial alike to those who receive and those who give.

If these things are done the confidence of the people of this country in the soundness of their government and its integrity of purpose will be re-established and as a result of that restoration of confidence we can confidently expect a surge of business activity, that will carry us far out of this unhappy era of depression and experimentation and re-establish us again on the high ground of national prosperity.

Landis Makes Rule

CHICAGO, April 28. — Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis today ordered that no "additional commitments, arrangements or authorizations" for radio broadcasts of games be made by major or minor league clubs, pending investigation of complaints from minor groups that "airing" of games is seriously harming attendance at their home contests.

DEATHS

MRS. ARTHUR W. COLLAR

COLUMBIANA, April 28. — Mrs. Eva Ellen Collar, 68, wife of Arthur W. Collar, died Monday evening at her home at New Middleton following six years' illness of complications.

Mrs. Collar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heck, was born at New Springfield on March 27, 1868, and spent her entire life in Springfield township. She was a member of the Zion Lutheran church of New Middleton.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Raymond W. Stacey, of New Middleton; one son, Clarence, at home; one grandchild; one brother, William Heck, of New Springfield. A daughter, two brothers and a sister preceded her in death.

Funeral service will be held by Rev. Gilbert Wise at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the home. Burial will be in the St. Petersburg cemetery.

SEWED AND TACKED TO FLOOR

This is not an inexpensive carpet made for sale purposes. We have sold many yards of it at a much higher price. Because we ordered it during the maker's dull season, he consented to allow us just a limited quantity at a sacrifice.

Patterns are the much sought two-toned effects that look smartly plain. Colors are the leading decorator shades: Burgundy, green, rust, taupe, brown. Special price includes sewing and tacking to floor.
